What kinds of financial products and services can Maxxia provide?

Maxxia is authorised by EML to provide general financial product advice to retail and wholesale clients in relation to deposit and payment products limited to:

- Basic deposit products; and
- Non-cash payment products.

The Card is a facility for making non-cash payments (a reloadable prepaid Mastercard product) issued by EML.

This means that Maxxia can:

- Arrange for the issue of the Card by EML to you;
- Provide general financial advice in relation to the Card; and
- Publish or issue certain promotional material in relation to the Card.

Maxxia and its associated companies are not authorised to provide (and EML itself does not provide) personal advice about financial products. Personal advice is advice when your objectives, financial situation or needs have been or would be expected to be considered. This means that Maxxia will not take your objectives, financial situation or needs into account whenever it gives general advice (in publishing or issuing promotional material) about the Card.

It is your responsibility to decide whether any general financial advice given by Maxxia in its promotional material is suitable for you, or to get personal advice from a financial adviser who holds an Australian Financial Services licence or who is an Authorised Representative of an Australian Financial Services licence and who is authorised to provide personal advice.

Maxxia can only provide general advice on basic deposit and non-cash payment products limited to the Card. Maxxia cannot advise you on, or influence you in favour of, a financial product that is not a product that we are authorised to provide advice on.

Please be aware that EML shall not be responsible where the Representative provides any services to you, which are outside of their authorisation limits. You should therefore ask the Representative to confirm specifically that the service or product relates to deposit and non-cash payment products, prior to acting on any general advice.

A Product Disclosure Statement will be provided to you

Before or at the time you are offered the Card, EML or Maxxia will also provide you with, or explain how to access, a Product Disclosure Statement ("PDS") for the Card. The PDS contains information about the costs, benefits, risks and other features of the recommended financial product. You should read this information to enable you to make an informed decision prior to acquiring the Card.

Can I provide Maxxia with instructions?

You may provide the Authorised Representative with specific instructions by letter, email or other means (as agreed with the Authorised Representative).

Disclosure of any relevant conflicts of interest

EML and Maxxia are not related entities. Maxxia does not have any relationships or associations that might influence them in providing you with its services.

Maxxia is the provider of salary packaging arrangements for which funds are loaded onto the Card. The remuneration received by Maxxia for the provision of the salary packaging arrangement is disclosed in their salary packaging contract and has no relation to the issue of the Card. Related bodies corporate of Maxxia receive a split of the Card fees and charges.

How are Maxxia and EML paid for providing financial services?

For providing the financial services outlined in this FSG in connection with the Card, Maxxia and its related bodies corporate (including McMillan Shakespeare Limited) (Maxxia Entities) will receive a share of the Primary Cardholder Monthly Benefit Fee, as described in the table below. Maxxia Entities may also receive a portion of transaction fees paid to EML, as described below.

Maxxia directors and staff are remunerated by salary that includes superannuation benefits. Maxxia staff may also be eligible for an annual bonus payment based on agreed performance levels.

The table below represents a summary of the fees payable by the Cardholder to EML in connection with the Card. Further information, including details of other fees, is contained in the PDS for the Card.

Fees and Charges paid by the Cardholder (all fees quoted are inclusive of GST)	Amount payable to EML
Primary Cardholder Monthly Benefit Fee	$4.40 per Benefit per month
Partner Cardholder Monthly Benefit Fee	$1.10 per Benefit per month

EML pays the following rebates to Maxxia with reference to the fees received by EML from the Cardholders:

Fee Description (all fees quoted are inclusive of GST)	Amount payable to Maxxia
Primary Cardholder Monthly Benefit Fee	$0.19 per Benefit per month
Partner Cardholder Monthly Benefit Fee	-

By way of example, if a Primary Cardholder has both a General Living Expenses Benefit and a Meal and Entertainment Benefit, then they will be charged $8.80 per month ($4.40 per Benefit), with the fee apportioned in accordance with the tables above as follows:

- EML will receive $8.42 per month; and
- Maxxia will receive $0.38 per month.

In addition to the above, if a Cardholder elects to have a Partner Cardholder access a Benefit, there is a monthly fee of $1.10 per Benefit accessed by the Partner Cardholder (payable solely to EML).

EML also receives interest income from Australia and New Zealand Banking Group Limited ABN 11 005 357 522 (AFSL 234527) ("ANZ") (an Authorised Deposit Taking Institution) on the total cardholder funds held in ANZ's accounts in relation to the Card. This interest income cost is not borne by Cardholders. Employees of EML do not receive, whether directly or indirectly, any fee, commission, benefit or advantage (pecuniary or otherwise) in connection with the financial services provided.

EML's record keeping obligations

EML will seek to ensure that comprehensive and accurate records of all services and products and client dealings are properly maintained.
